I'm Very Disturbed

PERTH AMBOY – At the public portion of the 5/11/16 Council Meeting, Resident Dot Daniel came up to speak. She informed the Council that there was another jumper off of the bridge. “I’m very disturbed about this. I’m disappointed that this Council and administration hasn’t gotten the State to do more for that bridge (Victory Bridge).”

Councilman Bill Petrick said it was the Driscoll Bridge that had the last jumper.

Daniel corrected the Councilman stating, “It’s the same body of water and our Police have to go in.” Daniel continued, “We need to make the State to do something to cover that bridge. I know you’re all decent people. Our Police and Fire Department Personnel put their lives in danger especially when they go into the waters, especially if there’s a nasty current.”

Council President Lisa Nanton answered, “Every year, we have a march on that bridge. The richer communities get better security on their bridges. We get chicken wire. This is why it’s important that we vote for the right people in the election coming up.”

Resident Ken Balut came up to speak next, “If they designed the bridge the right way in the first place, we could have saved the $20 million for that additional fencing. It was all political and McGreevey was involved besides Vas when that new bridge was put in place.” Balut also questioned, “When will be getting the $4 million back from Kushner?” Balut also had questioned taxes that were owed on King Plaza.

Business Administrator Adam Cruz told Balut that the tax collector has contacted King Plaza Management. “They are paying the $225,000 off quarterly. Two payments have already been made.”

Resident Stanley Sierakowski came up next. He wanted to know if the Council received the Charter School contract yet? And what was the change order on that contract?”

Council President Nanton answered, “We have not received a copy of the Charter School contract.”

Sierakowski was taken aback, “You’re voting on this and you don’t know what the contract called for?”

Sierakowski also told the Council that the City might be liable for the water bill of the Y when the property was located on Jefferson Street. He suggested that they should go into a binding arbitration with the Y for the money that is owed if it’s feasible.

Gregory Pabon, who is a Police Chaplain said, “The current fencing that is on the Victory Bridge is because of the Prayer Marches that we’ve had. The Mayor was at every march. We asked State Officials to also come.”

Resident Alan Silber came up to speak. He was still disturbed that a resolution awarding $850,000 was put on as a late starter at a previous Council Meeting.

“There were no press releases and no news conferences. She (the Mayor) had a press conference about the new community police.” Silber also had a question about parking spaces at the YMCA that a developer had requested. “Did any of the Council Members know who the developer was?”

Councilman Fernando Gonzalez said, “Ali Rada was the developer who requested those parking spaces.”

Silber answered back, “He was also a campaign contributor.” Silber continued, “I’m surprised that the insurance guy (Messerschmidt) and Attorney (Quinones) didn’t know who Gartland was. Maybe if we had a smoother transition between Blunda (former City Attorney) and the new Attorney (Arlene Quiniones-Perez), she would have known about Gartland. If you ignore history, you’ll make the same mistakes in the future.”

Mayor Diaz came up to speak on some of the discussions that took place. She stated that she wanted to clear up some of the facts, “The parking spaces mentioned at the Y for the developer was not designated for just one individual and currently that parking is

South Amboy Moving Forward With Arts District

By: Joseph L. Kuchie

SOUTH AMBOY - South Amboy’s city council passed a resolution authorizing the creation of an arts district in the city’s downtown area.

The art program’s home base will be located next to the train station on Broadway across from City Hall. The district will run from Main Street to Bordentown Ave. and will circle around the high school and theater.

The city hopes that the arts district will bring in new tourists and businesses to the downtown area. They also urge residents who own businesses within the arts district to promote and maintain activities and events that come into town.

City Engineer Mark Rasimowicz also gave updates to a few projects happening around South Amboy.

According to Rasimowicz, the city recently completed repaving Raritan Street, Macedulski Terrace, the 500 block of Catherine Street and a portion of Leferts Street. He also noted that the ongoing project of Barkalow Street, Charmel- low Drive, Lovely Drive, and Grace Drive completed concrete work and the city will be reconstructing and repaving the roadway in the next few weeks.

Rasimowicz also added that a bid for the reconstruction of the Sixth Street tennis courts has gone out and they will look to award the bid at the next city council meeting.

All council members were in attendance for the meeting. The next city council meeting will be held on June 15th at 7:00 p.m.

still available. We are short on the amount of parks in the City. We have a young population and our youth sports are growing. We don't have the money, but the County does. We had grant money to do a study that showed that we need more parks. Between the Harbortown Property and here and Middlesex College, we need more space. Would you rather just have another eyesore? I just do what's best for the youth and the families. They're still looking at remediation on that site (Duane Marine). Families tell me that they need facilities for sports. Artist rendering should be forthcoming in the fall. We told the Freeholders that we need more parking for the county park. The park is for the residents and the College can use it."

Councilman Joel Pabon was absent at the 5/9/16 Caucus Meeting and 5/11/16 Council Meeting.

Honoring Fallen American Heroes in the USA & Abroad

Normandy American Cemetery

We decided to do something a little bit different this year. About 7 months ago, my friend Jeff who lives in Arizona sent me a YouTube video which showed another country having a huge Memorial Day Celebration remembering American Fallen Heroes.

I tried desperately to Google that video, but came up short. I do remember when we were looking up the history of Perth Amboy's WWII Congressional Medal of Honor Recipient (who Sadowski Parkway is named in his honor) Sgt. Joseph Sadowski that I came upon a YouTube video (posted by Matthew Hermes) showing Sadowski being honored with a Memorial in France. Colonel James (Jimmie) Leach who knew Sadowski personally and was the commander of Company B, 37th Tank Battalion at the time of Sgt. Sadowski's death, spoke at the ceremony.

Follow this link to the YouTube video: https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=K5hwORf09Nc&feature=youtu_gdata_player

After seeing this video, I was curious to see how many other countries have memorials or cemeteries honoring American Fallen Heroes.

What I came up with was very moving. In the United States, we have many ceremonies nationwide honoring those who made the ultimate sacrifice. Unfortunately as with other patriotic holidays, it has become very commercialized with big sales.

The following information is from <https://www.abmc.gov/cemeteries-memorials>

operates and maintains 25 permanent American military cemeteries and 27 federal memorial, monuments and markers, which are located in 16 foreign countries, the U.S. Commonwealth of the Northern Mariana Islands, and the British Dependency of Gibraltar; three of the memorials are located within the United States. These cemeteries and memorials, most of which commemorate the service and sacrifice of Americans who served in World War I and World II, are among the most beautiful and meticulously maintained shrines in the world.

The Following Information is from an article: Overseas burial grounds honor fallen Americans By Michael Luongo, Special to CNN The ABMC was created by Congress in 1923. Foreign Cemeteries for American Military Members existed earlier, but most conflicts before them were fought at home or incurred fewer casualties.

France has the most at 11, Belgium 3, the United Kingdom and Italy 2 and Luxemburg and the Netherlands 1. Other Cemeteries include: Mexico City, Panama, the Philippines etc. A new memorial opened up in South Korea in 2013.

For a complete list of military cemeteries unkept by the ABMC go to the following information is from <https://www.abmc.gov/cemeteries-memorials>.

I want to thank ABMC for maintaining these important memorials worldwide.

Remember Our Fallen Heroes especially on Memorial Day, Monday, May 30th and year round. C.M.

THE COMMUNITY VOICE

It Can Happen Here!

Venezuela is falling apart big time, with long food lines and limited use of electrical power. Crime has gone up with robberies and looting. The food stores plus the murder rate has skyrocketed because of those helpless people. The inflation rate has quadrupled and made it harder to buy anything. This what happens when the Venezuelans were sleeping and letting the corrupt Government do as they please.

Can the military overthrow the Government or a people revolution? We hope that many Americas are watching this carefully. What's happening in Venezuela CAN HAPPEN IN THE USA! TRUST ME. In fact, look what happened in Puerto Rico. The Island is broke with a $70 billion dollar debit and why? Because a group of people were asleep in an office and one big major bank will fall because of this. Now, who gets the blame? I think it's time to WAKE UP before the elections start. So when you go to vote for the next Mayor or President, make sure you do your homework before pressing the button.

Orlando "Wildman" Perez.

Thank you from Jammin for Jaclyn

From all of us at Jammin for Jaclyn, we want to say THANK YOU. Honestly, thank you just does not seem like enough. We had hundreds of people come out to the 3rd annual Jammin for Jaclyn Benefit Concert this year in support of Wyatt Scott. Wyatt is two years old and has Neuroblastoma Cancer. More than 20 sponsors supported the event, we had 10 musical acts and dozens of food establishments donated an incredible amount of food. The hall was filled with love and support. Once again, it was an incredible evening. We love and appreciate each and every one of you for your help because there are just too many names to list here. Please go to our Jammin for Jaclyn Facebook page to see the complete list of our support system and the history of how the Jammin for Jaclyn Benefit Concert came about. Please remember that we are here to help members of the community who are in need due to illness. The continued community support enables us to hold Jammin for Jaclyn Benefit Concert every April. Please continue to pray for Wyatt and again, Thank you so much for your support. We look forward to another successful event next year!

Let's Stop the Insanity and Bring Back Common Sense

Just when I thought that the insanity in this country had reached its peak I find that I was wrong yet again. I'm talking about this bathroom battle that has been getting so much attention lately.

When I first heard about this thing with the bathrooms in North Carolina I thought that the controversy was about transsexuals being able to use the bathroom of their sex. What's the big deal I thought? If you have one, you use the men's room, if you don't, you use the ladies room, case closed. That is not the case it seems. The law, and subsequent lawsuits, are based around transgenderism.

Personally I thought transsexual and transgender were the same thing, they are not. Transsexual is a clinical term, whereas transgender is a social and political one.

A transsexual feels as though they are trapped in the body of the opposite sex and want to physically change their bodies.

Let's take a male to female, (MTF), transsexual. They will undergo extensive hormone and psychological treatments. Two years are spent in the preoperative transitional state.

Which basically means they look and act like a female, but the package has not left the post office yet. If after two years of living as a female they feel this is what they really want, they go for the surgery to make the transformation.

The first and most famous transsexual, that is until recently, was Christine Jorgensen back in 1952. I remember watching her on the Joe Pyne show in the sixties. Back then it was viewed as a novelty by most and not given much thought.

Transgender, on the other hand, is a state of mind. It includes, but is not limited to, transvestites and people who play with gender expression for any purpose what so ever, big difference.

Where were you liberals when I was in high school? Man, I could say I was identifying as a female and walk right into the girls' room. I probably would have been suspended and my father would have been called to school, and if they told him why I was suspended he would probably have brought an "ass kicking" with him. But that was when parents didn't put up with nonsense. And that's what this whole bathroom thing is, nonsense.

Let me be clear. I have no problem with the LGBT community. I feel that a person's sexual preference is none of my business. If you want to be gay, be gay. If you want to marry a person of the same sex, knock your socks off. But if you want to share the same bathroom with my young niece or someone else's granddaughter, that's where I draw the line.

It seems as though when some politicians want to dump money down some educational rat hole or attack the second amendment it becomes an issue about the children. "Oh think of the children", "it's for the safety of the children", "Oh the poor children" will be chanted over and over again till they get their way. Well where is the concern for the children now. Passing a law that allows transgenders to use the bathroom of their choice will open the door for any pedophile, pervert, and rapist to walk through. Some will probably say, "You don't know that". Well yes I do, it will happen a sure as Carter has pills.

I have to wonder about the mindset of the politicians who are jumping on this bandwagon. What are you thinking? Maybe you've been in office too long and need a vacation.

Stop expending all this energy on nonsense and apply it where it is needed. For instance, getting people who are still homeless after "Super Storm Sandy" back in their homes.

Joint Pain

Press Release 5/20/16
PERTH AMBOY — Mitruska Integrated Wellness Center has entered into a partnership with the Stem Cell Institute of America to offer advanced options to treat chronic joint pain.

“We always strive to be ahead of the curve with the newest procedures to offer our patients the most advanced alternatives to simply treating symptoms or resorting automatically to surgery.” – Dr. Daryl Susan Mitruska, D.C., Clinic Director

Regenerative Cell Treatment has unlimited potential to actually regrow joint cells and tissue that have been lost. No longer do patients have to accept a predetermined fate of endless, unnecessary pain or inevitable surgery. Those suffering from long-lasting joint pain should consider all of their alternatives, not just those of medications that mask the symptoms and come with numerous side effects or surgeries that carry high risks and are quite painful.

The center’s first FREE informational dinner seminar to introduce the new program will be offered on Tuesday, June 14, 2016, at 6:30 p.m. RSVP required and limited to 20 registrants. To register, call 732-324-4300 or visit us online at www.mitruskawellness.com.

Unique Effort between Dep, USDA Under Way to Preserve Historic Tree in Perth Amboy, Middlesex County

English Elm's Seeds to Be Sent to Colorado Repository For Cryogenic Storage, Genetic Research to Ensure Species' Survival

Bill Lindner, DEP's CCI Lead for Perth Amboy

Alec McCarthy and Gary Nevalo speak about preserving the tree

Press Release 5/10/16

TRENTON/PERTH AMBOY – A Department of Environmental Protection program that identifies redevelopment opportunities in New Jersey's urban centers, is looking to the future to preserve an important part of Perth Amboy's history – a 200-year-old English elm tree in front of City Hall, Commissioner Bob Martin announced today. In February, a representative with the DEP's Community Cooperative Initiative (CCI), who was working with Perth Amboy on various redevelopment projects, became curious about the aging and ailing tree and took it upon himself to begin researching ways to preserve it. CCI works to identify and promote environmental protection and redevelopment projects, as well as improve the quality of life in Camden, Perth Amboy and Trenton.

"Perth Amboy's English elm tree is a testament to New Jersey's rich history, and a symbol of both strength and pride when communities take care of our precious natural resources," Commissioner Martin said. "It is heartening to know that the combination of caring and determination, coupled with today's science and technology, may be able to help save this species of tree and ensure its survival for generations to come."

After hearing about the tree's history and value to Perth Amboy, Bill Lindner, DEP's CCI Lead for Perth Amboy, contacted representatives with DEP's Historic Preservation Office and State Forestry Services to see what could be done to preserve the tree. The tree is well past its maximum life span of 125 years and is in the last years of its life.

DEP's Forestry Services contacted the U.S. Department of Agriculture and is now working with the National Center for Genetic Resources Preservation to collect seeds from the tree. The seeds will be sent to a USDA repository in Fort Collins, Colorado, where they will be cryogenically stored for 100 years. Genetic research and engineering also will be done to determine how to make this tree species and others resistant to disease.

The English elm has a storied history. Perth Amboy resident Thomas Mundy Peterson became the first African-American to vote in the United States, on March 31, 1870, after the 15th Amendment to the U.S. Constitution granting African-American men the right to vote was ratified a day earlier. Mundy reportedly had stood under the elm tree before entering Perth Amboy City Hall to vote in a local election.

In addition to standing witness to both national and state history through the centuries, this majestic elm has withstood the forces of nature. It has fought off disease multiple times, and survived heavy damage after the Perth Amboy City Hall roof blew off during Superstorm Sandy in October 2012 and hit the tree, requiring the removal of some branches.

The historic elm is a source of pride for Perth Amboy, said Mayor Wilda Diaz. In 2013, the city solicited an expert to access the tree and propose measures to preserve it. With support from the public and City Council, almost $9,000 in City funds were used to help stabilize the tree and extend its life expectancy by as much as nine years.

"The City of Perth Amboy holds many historic treasures, from the Carnegie Library to the Ferry Slip, and our English elm tree stands to complement the oldest municipal building in continuous use in the nation, City Hall," Mayor Diaz said. "I am pleased to know that this natural piece of history has a chance at revival, because it's certainly worth saving."

Even with the USDA's involvement, DEP will continue pursuing all options to save the tree's genetic history. Tree samples will be taken to the New Jersey State Forest Nursery in Jackson in an attempt to produce offspring from cuttings and seeds.

"This elm tree has been in Perth Amboy for many and we understand its significance to the community and state," said John Sacco, Assistant Director of Parks and Forestry/State Forester. "We are dealing with a very old tree and are trying as many options as possible to do everything we can to preserve it, which is why this collaboration with the USDA is so vital. New Jersey's trees not only provide us with shelter and wildlife habitat, often, as in Perth Amboy's case, they can be the focal points and sources of pride for our communities."

The role of CCI in Perth Amboy, as well as in Camden and Trenton, uses a single DEP point of contact to bring innovative solutions to these urban centers' complex environmental challenges. In 2013 the Christie Administration, with partner agencies in Camden, launched a series of projects to address environmental, health and quality of life issues. The success of that program led to the August 2015 creation of the Community Collaborative Initiative and expansion to include Perth Amboy and Trenton.

This Week in World War II 75 Years Ago

By: Phil Kohn. Dedicated to the memory of his father, GM3 Walter Kohn, U.S. Navy Armed Guard, USNR, and all men and women who have answered the country's call in time of need. Phil can be contacted at ww2remembered@yahoo.com.

On May 23, 1941, the Germans consolidate their hold on Maleme, Crete, and its airfield, sending in artillery equipment and fighter planes. In the Denmark Strait (between Iceland and Greenland), the British cruisers HMS Norfolk and HMS Suffolk spot Bismarck and Prinz Eugen. British shipboard radar assists in tracking the vessels.

At 5:52 a.m. on May 24, HMS Hood — known as “The Mighty Hood”, one of the world’s largest and most powerful warships, and the pride of the Royal Navy — opens fire on Bismarck and Prinz Eugen in the Denmark Strait, joined by the battleship HMS Prince of Wales. Ten minutes later, a shell from Bismarck hits Hood near her after ammunition magazines and Hood explodes, sinking in less than three minutes. Of Hood’s complement of 1,418, only three crewmen survive. Prince of Wales, badly damaged by the concentrated fire of the two German vessels after Hood’s sinking, makes smoke and speeds away. The Germans do not follow, obeying orders to avoid engaging if possible. Off the coast of Sicily, the British submarine HMS Upholder sinks the Italian troopship Conte Rosso, killing 1,300.

The next day, May 25, the British are frustrated as they search futilely for the whereabouts of Bismarck and Prinz Eugen, which, unbeknownst to the British, have split up. Bismarck, however, breaks radio silence to report in and the signal is picked up by British direction-finding equipment. Unfortunately, HMS King George V and HMS Rodney, in pursuit, are both low on fuel and have no hope of catching Bismarck unless the German vessel can somehow be slowed.

On May 26, a British Catalina flying boat spots Bismarck about 700 miles from the port of Brest, Occupied France. Later that evening, the British aircraft carrier HMS Ark Royal — the only vessel close enough — launches 15 Fairey Swordfish torpedo bombers that attack Bismarck and cripple her steering, practically bringing her to a halt. Hours later, five British destroyers arrive and during the night continually harass the German vessel — able to move only in wide circles — with gunfire and torpedo attacks.

On the morning of May 27, the battleships HMS King George V and HMS Rodney and the heavy cruisers HMS Dorsetshire and HMS Norfolk arrive on scene and engage the crippled Bismarck. After two hours of shelling and torpedo attacks, Bismarck sinks. Of her crew of over 2,200, only 114 survive. On Crete, the Germans take two inland towns. The Allies, now split, are moving in a somewhat disorganized manner toward Sfakia, on the south coast, for evacuation to Egypt. Along the Egyptian border with Libya, Rommel has reinforced his troops, and his two panzer divisions retake the Halfaya Pass. In Washington, spurred in part by the sinking of the U.S. vessel SS Robin Moor (on May 21), President Roosevelt declares an “unlimited national emergency,” stating: “what started as a European war has developed as the Nazis always intended it should develop — into a world war for world domination.”

By May 28, the 20th Indian Brigade has advanced from Basra to Ur, in Iraq, but is stalled awaiting repairs to damaged roads and railroads. On Crete, the Allies fight a number of rearguard actions to cover their retreat to the beaches at Sfakia, where they begin evacuating the island.

At Sfakia, Crete, the destroyer HMS Hereward, engaged in evacuating Allied troops, is sunk by the Luftwaffe during an air raid on May 29 with a loss of 76 lives. Italian torpedo boats rescue 89 crew members from the water and take them prisoner.

Novena to St. Rita

O holy protectress of those who art in greatest need, thou who shineth as a star of hope in the midst of darkness, blessed Saint Rita, bright mirror of God's grace, in patience and fortitude thou art a model of all the states in life. I unite my will with the will of God through the merits of my Savior Jesus Christ, and in particular through his patient wearing of the crown of thorns, which with tender devotion thou didst daily contemplate. Through the merits of the holy Virgin Mary and thine own graces and virtues, I ask thee to obtain my earnest petition, provided it be for the greater glory of God and my own sanctification. Guide and purify my intention, O holy protectress and advocate, so that I may obtain the pardon of all my sins and the grace to persevere daily, as thou didst in walking with courage, generosity, and fidelity down the path of life. (Mention your request.) Saint Rita, advocate of the impossible, pray for us. Saint Rita, advocate of the helpless, pray for us.

Recite the Our Father, Hail Mary, and Glory Be three times each. K.M. & C.M.
