PERTH AMBOY REPRESENTATIVES APPEAR BEFORE LOCAL FINANCE BOARD

Results of bonding for payments owed to Chevron awaited at tonight's City Council Meeting

PERTH AMBOY -This morning at approximately 11am Business Administrator Greg Fehrenbach, CFO/Controller, The Bond Counselor and Financial Advice were scheduled to meet with the local Finance Board to map out a schedule for Perth Amboy to receive Bonding to pay Chevron Corporation a refund of $7,900,000. At the May 11, 2011 Council Meeting Mr. Fehrenbach gave different scenarios how repayment schedules are structured if Perth Amboy is approved for Bonding..It all boils down to Perth Amboy's Bond Rating. One example had to do with Quality Bond and Investment Grade Bonds. The terms of those Bonds could be for the repayment schedule to be between a 3-5 year standard although it could be more. If Chevron continued to pay taxes even during the appeal process. At tonight's 7 p.m. Council Meeting (City Hall, High St) Mr. Fehrenbach is expected to give a fully detailed explanation of the Finance Board's Decision and then The City Of Perth Amboy can proceed from there.

Raritan Bay Medical Center Foundation's Annual Art Show Benefits Center for Women

PERTH AMBOY - May 20, 2011... Art aficionados and supporters of Raritan Bay Medical Center (RBMC) alike made this year's Raritan Bay Medical Center Foundation – "Inspirations: A Celebration of Art & Spring" art show reception the most successful ever, raising more than $40,000 for the medical center's Center for Women. Guests looking to enjoy an elegant night out enjoyed the chic event at RBMC's Perth Amboy location, complete with live music by the Victor Quezada Jazz

Trio, cocktails, hors d'oeuvres and wine tasting provided by Joe Canal's Discount Liquor. As part of the evening, retired Perth Amboy High School Principal Rozalia Czaban was honored for her commitment to the district's students, the community and the medical center. The works of local artists, including; the late Louis P. Booz III, Paul Borkowski, EJ Davis, Dawn Drago, Darlene Foster, Cabbar Komek, John S. Masi, Michele Mastrangelo, Paul Moran, Glenn Murgacz, Melissa Pino, Susan Schaffer, Margaret Smolarski, Rolando Talag, Gail Tanski, Joseph Tanski, Phyllis Wilkinson, Amy Brooks, Connie Elek, and Lois Griffin are showcased along with works from Woodbridge and Perth Amboy school district art students. Select pieces will be displayed on the medical center's concourse and be available for purchase until Monday, June 13. For more information, or to make a donation, call 732-324-5374. "We are so happy to support our community and honor Rozalia, a leader who has given so much back to our community," said Executive Vice President, Raritan Bay Medical Center Foundation Nancy Barone. The medical center opened a new Center for Women in its Perth Amboy hospital, as part of the new Outpatient and Imaging Suites in its newly renovated Blue Wing. The new center complements the medical center's longstanding Old Bridge location. Both provide diagnosis and treatment for women's specific needs, but the Perth Amboy location is one of only a few New Jersey sites providing breast MRI imaging and MRI-guided biopsy in combination. Additionally, women's healthcare company Hologic has recognized RBMC as a Pink Ribbon Facility™ certifying that the medical center provides its patients the best possible imaging technology for the earliest possible detection of breast cancer. To schedule an appointment, call 732-324-5270. For more information, visit www.rbmc.org.

Raritan Bay Medical Center Executive Assistant to President and CEO Michael R. D'Agnes

PERTH AMBOY - June 3, 2011... Raritan Bay Medical Center Executive Assistant to President and CEO Michael R. D'Agnes, Cheryl Kurkowski, cHAP, of Bayonne, is the first New Jersey professional to earn the certified healthcare administrative professional (cHAP) designation from the Association of Healthcare Administrative Professionals

Kurkowski of Bayonne First in New Jersey to Achieve cHAP Status

(AHCAP).

Administrative professionals who receive the cHAP designation have met stringent requirements in education, direct professional experience and areas of professional development and successfully completed the cHAP examination, demonstrating comprehensive knowledge of substantive skills that provide value and distinction in an increasingly competitive marketplace. In receiving this designation, Kurkowski has been recognized for being among the elite in the critical and demanding field of healthcare administration. Healthcare consumers and medical center staff, with locations in Old Bridge and Perth Amboy, alike can be assured that cHAP designees subscribe to a strict code of ethics, have access to the latest technology and are specialists in vital competencies performed regularly in practice.

A NJ state-designated primary stroke center, RBMC is a recipient of the American Stroke Association's Get with the GuidelinesSM - Stroke Silver Performance Achievement Award, recognizing the medical center's success in implementing a high standard of stroke care and the American Heart Association Get with the GuidelinesSM - Heart Failure Gold Performance Achievement Award recipient, recognizing the optimal care of patients in 24 consecutive months. RBMC, with locations in Old Bridge and Perth Amboy, is also one of less than two percent of hospitals nationally to achieve re-designation as a Magnet Hospital, recognizing nursing excellence, and is a three time recipient of the NJ Horizon Blue Cross Blue Shield patient care quality award.

Licensed for 501 beds with a medical staff of more than 500, RBMC provides medical-surgical, maternity, pediatric, diagnostic imaging, laboratory and general and critical care, as well as adult behavioral health, emergency and interventional cardiac and same day surgery services. A leader in cardiovascular care, RBMC is one of only ten New Jersey hospitals chosen to participate in a national Johns Hopkins University Medical Center demonstration project studying the benefits of providing elective angioplasty in hospitals without onsite cardiac surgery. The hospital's new Human Motion Institute is devoted to providing superior outcomes and patient satisfaction in all areas of musculoskeletal treatment and its newly launched Institute for Weight Loss at Old Bridge provides medical and surgical weight loss options. The medical center has several other specialty services including the Center for Wound Healing, Center for Sleep Medicine, Center for Women, Center for Continence and Pelvic Rehabilitation, Pulmonary Rehabilitation and Physical Therapy and Rehabilitation Programs. RBMC's Medical Pavilion at Woodbridge provides urgent care services without an appointment 365 days a year, an obstetrics and gynecology physician practice and outpatient physical therapy services. RBMC is a major clinical affiliate of UMDNJ-Robert Wood Johnson Medical School and a member of the Robert Wood Johnson Health Network. For more information about services, visit www.rbmc.org. David's Touch

- Christmas in July

BRIDGEWATER - David
Rosado passed away 6 years ago, at the age of 9. Born with a congenital heart disease,
David was later diagnosed with cancer at the age of 8. In his short years here on earth, he endured obstacles that many of us never face in a lifetime; undergoing multiple open-heart surgeries and a heart transplant. Through it all, he was blessed with a love for life and a great spirit. The ownership of the Somerset Patriots Baseball Team is willing to assist the David's Touch
Foundation on Friday, July 29, 2011 at 7:05 p.m. The foundation is in need of sponsors.
Tickets are $10 each with your toy donation. Come to the "Christmas in July" Event at the TD Bank Ballpark, Bridgewater, NJ. For more information contact 732-896-

of our labor there. Then, Rosemary had the idea to create a “Hummingbird Garden” at the foot of High Street at the Gazebo, which we initially called the miracle garden. The City was to rototil , but when we arrived to plant, we discovered they had just spread an inch of new soil on the surface over solid clay. For hours we labored with our pitchforks to turn over the “soil” in preparation for planting. In all of our history, that was the day from hell. We had our doubts anything would grow. Much to our amazement and joy, the garden flourished.

We planted a border hedge of Coreopsis along with Roses, Trumpet vine, Morning Glories, Columbine and annuals. The design by Rosemary and Donna Tkacs was intended to attract, of course, Hummingbirds.

Then, over the winter, the sand came. We asked for a snow fence but that never arrived. The coreopsis became diseased and died. We spent the spring shoveling sand out of our garden. Then a tree was donated in someone’s memory and the parks dept. planted it right next to our garden, so one side lost the sun. No one thought to consult us. The reason we chose the sight initially was because of the sun – that’s why the gazebo was there in the first place, to provide shade from the sun. Rosemary redesigned the sight to accommodate the general indifference to the garden. We planted grasses to hold the sand back. Rosemary never got to see her new design. It was around this time that her health started to fail. We also maintain the Fragrance Garden, in front of the Surveyor General’s office, designed by Donna Pemberton, Market Square, designed by me, the Earl of Perth and Kearny Cottage, designed by Donna Tkacs, the Patriotic Garden, designed by Janice Jenson, the Rose Garden designed by Jeannette Miller, the Youth Garden at Perth Amboy High School, designed by Michele Liska, and the Ferry Slip garden designed by Nicole Engel.

We planted and designed an adjunct garden on the slope at Caledonia Park in the shape of a butterfly. That garden was removed when the city redesigned the park. Our Bayview Park garden was removed when the city redesigned that park.

Last year we planted Market Square Garden twice, and twice we watched it die due to malfunctioning irrigation systems. The award winning Sunshine Garden was destroyed when the safe haven program moved into the tennis building. We replanted three times and three times we saw it destroyed. The fire at the tennis building took out our Rose Garden. We have had our Daylilies, Hydrangeas and ornamental grasses weed-wacked.

All along, this club has faced challenges, from sheer frustration to shouldering insults. We had a rose garden at one point and we hope we will again. We may lose the Patriotic Garden due to construction of the new tennis building. Thanks to Rosemary’s example and inspiration, we have become one tenacious group. Our club’s motto is “Bloom where you’re planted.” We are planting for our 18th year, which means I am 18 years older. We could use some young blood and muscle. The only requirements are love for Perth Amboy and to believe, as we do, that we all deserve a beautiful place to live.

Plans have been formulated for two new raised gardens with a central walk leading to a pergola with bench and space for wheelchairs at the tennis courts. We intend for that to be named in Rosemary’s honor. I hoped she would have lived to see it come to fruition.

Rest in peace, Dear Rosemary, and thank you for all you did for Perth Amboy. Your spirit lives on through your vision and gardens.

Lisa Nanton, President
The Royal Garden Club

Rosemary Mazzeo

Rosemary Mazzeo (nee Luchicchia/Lughes), 81 of Perth Amboy, died Saturday May 28, 2011 at Home. She was born in Perth Amboy and was a lifelong resident. She was a Communicant of Our Lady of the Most Holy Rosary R.C.Church. She graduated Perth Amboy High School in 1947, The New Jersey State Teacher’s College in 1951 and received a Master of Art Degree from Columbia University in 1967. She retired in 1991 as the Administrator of the Gifted & Talented Program with the Woodbridge Township Board of Education for over 40 years. She married Joseph Mazzeo July 4, 1953. She loved her family, home, gardening, cooking her holiday dinners for family and friends and her summer vacations at Tremezzo on Lake Como in Italy, Germany and Bressanone in the South

Tyrol, a 36 year love affair. Rose was a very civic minded woman as one of the founders of the Royal Garden Club By The Bay, a member of the Proprietary House Association, the Middlesex County Cultural & Heritage Alliance and various educational associations. She was the recipient of the 1999 Civic Leader of the Year Award front the City of Perth Amboy, The “Gifted and Talented Student Award”, presented by the P.T.O. in 1992, and the Alpha Delta Kappa outstanding Retired Educator of Woodbridge Township. She was truly the Butterfly, who when she fluttered her wings, caused a hurricane in another part of the world.

Gold Star Mothers

There has been a good-faith mistake printed in the above newspaper dated June 1, 2011 concerning the nature of Gold Star Mothers that suffered a great loss during WWII. Specifically, I did not state that Gold Star mothers were the mothers of servicemen in World War II. What I said was that Gold Star Mothers were the mothers of servicemen killed in during the war. When a mother’s sons or daughters went to war, she would get a small banner containing blue stars to hang in her window. To this day I remember seeing them in windows even though the war had ended years before. If a servicemen or woman was killed while serving in the war, a blue star was replaced with a gold star. It was considered a sign of respect for our war dead.

Perth Amboy Means Business: Consolidation of Redevelopment Efforts

Perth Amboy Featured in the NJLM Magazine

Hon. Wilda Diaz, Mayor
& Helga van Eckert, Director,
Office of Economic Community Development,
Redevelopment, UEZ and BID,
City of Perth Amboy

By any ranking of attractiveness to business, New Jersey’s performance is dismal. Depending on which yardstick you use, our beautiful state ranks between 24th (CNBC) and 50th (Tax Foundation) among the 50 states in terms of attractiveness to business. To counter this negative perception, state officials have launched a marketing campaign to tout the advantages of locating in New Jersey. Recognizing the need to actively recruit businesses to our community, the City of Perth Amboy is doing the same.

Like the state, our beautiful “city by the bay” has much to recommend it, including a location at the heart of one of the world’s largest and wealthiest consumer markets. We also have an outstanding transportation network that includes rail access, a deep-water port and easy access to Newark Liberty International Airport and a network of highways including Interstates 80, 95, 280 and 287 and the Garden State Parkway.

But if we are to attract the new jobs that are more critical to our prosperity than ever in light of the current high rates of unemployment, we need to create a business-friendly environment and get the word out that “Perth Amboy means business.”

To accomplish this goal, Perth Amboy has restructured its approach to economic revitalization with the goal of competing nationally in terms of business recruitment and economic development. The first step was for the city to consolidate four separate city departments with business recruitment and economic development functions in order to create a comprehensive economic development plan.

Combining these offices, namely the Economic and Community Development, Redevelopment, Urban Enterprise Zone (UEZ) and the Business Improvement District (BID), has allowed the city to streamline operations, pool resources, avoid duplication of efforts, cut red tape and ramp up our game in an atmosphere in which the national competition to attract new business has become increasingly intense and sophisticated. Each of the newly united economic development functions possesses resources that can help businesses thrive; such as incentives, grants and loans. Community development, planning and support is also recognized as a key component to the economic development discussion because of the dependence of business recruitment and success upon a thriving community.

Obviously, these departments communicated closely prior to the restructuring, which occurred about six months ago. However, the new organization facilitates communications, operations and long-term and strategic planning. Each former department and the associated Board members benefit from access to the others’ full scope of resources and areas of expertise. This is critical if they are going to address the changing needs of the business community.

On the business side, the length of the approvals process is a major complaint about New Jersey’s business climate. Many projects have faltered or even failed as a consequence of delayed approvals. Stability and expeditious reviews are paramount in attracting new businesses and investment to a community. The new office serves as an advocate—helping businesses to cut red tape and navigate the approvals process.

For example, the new office might set up a technical meeting for a new or expanding business with all entities— including those at the county and state levels. This “one stop approach” allows businesses who are seeking permits to avoid making time-consuming rounds to several offices. Businesses that choose to locate in Perth Amboy may also be entitled to financial incentives. As a result of the NJ Portfield, UEZ, Redevelopment and Brownfield Development Area designations, properties in certain areas of the city can receive financial, planning and environmental remediation incentives, as well as expedited regulatory review and approvals.

However, we are not ignoring existing businesses. We take great pride in the businesses that have played a part in revitalizing our thriving downtown and our historic waterfront. Our goals—job creation, new tax ratables and overall prosperity—are also dependent on their success and growth. Some of our more popular economic development efforts with the existing businesses are focused on programs to improve facades, promote entrepreneurship, clean up litter, remove gum from city sidewalks and attract residents and visitors to the downtown through events.

While the city is implementing changes to create a pro-business environment, it is equally important that the perception of the city making business a priority creates a level of confidence that will allow a project to move forward. If a business sees that it is welcome and that the city will do everything it can to help, it makes a marked difference. To this end, the city has hired an experienced public relations firm, Beckerman, to help us craft our messaging, “brand” the city as business-friendly and develop traditional and “new” media public relations campaigns. We are expanding our outreach with Facebook and Twitter while also publicizing the achievements and activities of our existing businesses. Our recently unveiled website, perthamboymeansbusiness.com is a one-stop shop for everything business-related in the city.

Additionally, we are partnering with Choose New Jersey, a private organization that is working with state officials to promote business, in a national marketing campaign. The campaign’s primary vehicle will be a booklet-sized “New Jersey Economic Development Guide” in which Perth Amboy will be featured in several pages of ads highlighting the reasons to locate in our city.

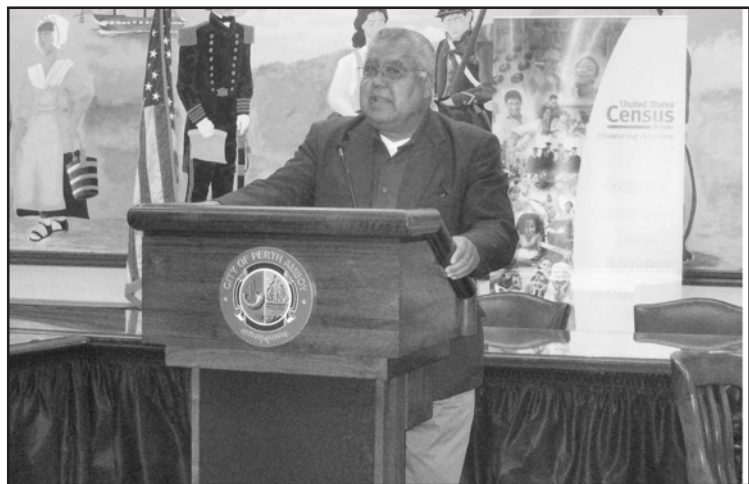

Our efforts to revitalize the city have already met with considerable success. We’ve revitalized the waterfront, attracted new businesses such as Excalibur, LLC, and provided assistance to existing businesses such as Vira Manufacturing. We’ve also tackled improvements in quality of life by cleaning up environmentally contaminated sites. But if we are going to continue to prosper in an increasingly competitive climate, we need to be aggressive about attracting new business and promoting the growth of existing businesses. The uniting of our economic development functions, in conjunction with our new marketing campaign, are the key to that effort. •

IF WE ARE TO ATTRACT THE NEW JOBS THAT ARE CRITICAL TO OUR PROSPERITY, WE NEED TO CREATE A BUSINESS-FRIENDLY ENVIRONMENT
AND GET THE WORD OUT THAT “PERTH AMBOY MEANS

Lecture on Hispanic Demographics

PERTH AMBOY - Professor Robert Montemayor made a presentation to a group of business owners, community leaders and others interested in knowing more of the population growth of Latinos in New Jersey on Thursday, June 2, 2011. According to Prof. Robert Montemayor, “Perth Amboy currently has a Latino population of 78.1 percent, as recorded in the 2010 Census. It’s important to understand and know how to reach out to the rapidly changing demographics in our city and state.” Montemayor is a veteran marketing executive, consultant, author and Pulitzer Prize winning journalist who is providing more than 35 years of media experience to Rutgers University. He is currently Director of the Latino Information Network at Rutgers University (LIN@R) and a lecturer of media, journalism and history in the School of Communication and Information. In 2004, Montemayor was the primary author of the book, “Right Before Our Eyes: Latinos Past, Present and Future,” a 160-page treatment focusing on the economic, political and social impact of the largest and fastest growing ethnic group in the United States.

A Valiant Effort

PERTH AMBOY - The Perth Amboy High School Baseball Team put up a valiant effort against Westfield in the NJSIAA Baseball Tournament, Final Round, North Jersey, Section 2, Group 4. During the game, the Perth Amboy Panthers fell behind several times, each time fighting back but Westfield rallied in the top of the 7th inning. Perth Amboy rallied back in the bottom of the 7th with a 2 run home run by Abner Rodriguez and had the tying run at the plate but Westfield held on to win. Emilio Calderon (11-2) pitched the entire game for Perth Amboy and finished his senior year at PAHS with 153 strikeouts. Rudyk Park was packed with cheering spectators including Mayor Wilda Diaz and members of the City Council and the Board of Education. Although the team lost the state tournament, the PAHS Baseball Team has played outstanding all season long and finished with a record of 22 wins and 5 losses. The Guardian congratulates the Perth Amboy High School Baseball Team on its winning season.

SANDY HOOK - Sandy Hook / Highlands History: Originally discovered by the famous Sea Captain Henry Hudson in the early 1600’s, Sandy Hook remains a beautiful, 1,665-acre barrier peninsula within view of the Manhattan skyline. It is recommended that those who would like to spend some time in Sandy Hook stay in Highlands, which is located on the hill across the bay.

Beach Info - The 7 mile stretch of spectacular ocean and bay beaches are excellent for surf casting, swimming, and relaxing on the sand. Nature lovers will revel in the 300 – plus species of migratory birds, as well as the pristine holly forest. Be Warned! Parking lots fill up early on weekends in the summer, causing the gates to close. 2011 Season- Memorial Day through Labor Day - Although there is no entrance fee to Sandy Hook, there is a $10 per car parking fee. A $50 Seasonal Beach Pass is also available. Golden Access and Golden Age Passport holders receive a 50 percent discount. Passes for oversized vehicles (over 20 feet) are $25. Gateway National Park at Sandy Hook is a ‘dog friendly’ beach on the Inlet side of the Hook but your dogs must be leashed at all times. Please note that there are no amenities (i.e. life guards, rest rooms, food or beverages) available on the Inlet side (western shore) of the Park. Dogs are not allowed at any time on the eastern or Atlantic shore of the Park.

New York Beach Ferry - Spend a day relaxing on the beach, swimming, sun tanning, bird watching, fishing (check with local laws), or sightseeing in Sandy Hook and Atlantic Highlands, New Jersey. Ferries will depart from Pier 11, www.newyorkbeachferry.com. SeaStreak Ferry - SeaStreak America, Inc. is a leader in revitalizing fast passenger ferry services in the New York metropolitan area. Visit their website at <http://www.seastreak.com>.

Big Mohawk Party Boat - The Big Mohawk NJ Party Boat, located in the Jersey Shore town of Belmar, Services also provided are Private Charters and Burials at Sea.

Sea Devil Party Boat - The Sea Devil NJ Party Boat, located in the Jersey Shore town of Point Pleasant Beach, offers New Jersey Blue Fishing and Offshore NJ Tuna Fishing trips. Other services also provided are Inland River Cruises and Burials at Sea.

Bike Trails - Rails-to-Trails Conservancy (RTC) is an organization dedicated to assisting local communities in the acquisition of abandoned railroad corridors and the conversion of these corridors into trails that are used for biking, walking and running. Most trails are limited to a 3 percent incline because this is the default characteristic of a railroad track. The gentle slope of a railroad trail is ideally suited for various forms of exercise: rollerblading, biking, jogging and leisurely strolls all occur on these different trails. Henry Hudson Trail - Jersey Shore Location: Aberdeen to Atlantic Highlands Activities: Walking, Horseback Riding, Biking, Cross Country Skiing, In-line Skating, Wheelchair Accessible

Length: 9 miles

Sandy Hook All Women Lifeguard Tournament - The Sandy Hook All Women Lifeguard Tournament is held every July and include women’s teams from as far away as Cape Cod, Massachusetts and Nags Head, North Carolina. The lifeguards of the sandy Hook All Women Lifeguard Tournament are competitors for the honor of the towns they represent and as a group are responsible for saving dozens of lives each summer.

All proceeds will go to medical bills incurred by the McQuade family. Joseph McQuade was diagnosed on October 27, 2010 with a Diffuse Intrinsic Pontine Glioma (DIPG), a rare inoperable brain tumor that rapidly diminishes the ability to walk, talk and use his hands while leaving thinking intact. He underwent extensive radiation treatment and experimental chemotherapy which had many horrible side effects. He was a very good student that loved math. He enjoyed basketball, soccer and Boy Scouts. He belonged to troop 523 and aspired to be an eagle scout. His favorite team was the Mets. His condition deteriorated and he passed away on April 12, 2011 just 5 1/2 months after his diagnosis. Joseph's family is grateful to all who are helping to put their lives back together, but they realize that their lives will be forever changed by this unbelievably cruel disease. Mayor John E. McCormac Vito Cimilluca, Recreation Director

Movie Review: Kung Fu Panda 2

In “Kung Fu Panda 2” the hero, a roly-poly panda named Po, voiced by the irrepressible Jack Black, undergoes an identity crisis. Raised by a doting, dithering, noodle-shop-owning goose, Po experiences flashbacks to a traumatic infancy, including hazy recollections of his parents that look sketched by hand, in contrast to the computer-polished, 3-D images that dominate the movie. As Po tries to work out his issues, “Kung Fu Panda 2,” directed by Jennifer Yuh Nelson from a screenplay by Jonathan Aibel and Glenn Berger, succumbs to its own crippling confusion. The first “Kung Fu Panda,” released in 2008, was a rambunctious, whimsical blend of action, jokiness and sentiment, lifted above the kiddie-cartoon mean by its shiny, playful look and Mr. Black’s endlessly adaptable charm. The movie was also a big enough hit to make it unthinkable that DreamWorks Animation, which ran poor Shrek into the ground, would let it stand alone. So the studio worked up this sequel, which accomplishes the depressingly familiar mathematical trick of being both more and less than its predecessor. The upside of the “more” is that there is, once again, quite a lot of nice stuff to look at, an expanded palette of clever and sometimes beautiful visual effects. Like the first “Panda” picture — and like the intermittently sublime “How to Train Your Dragon” — “Kung Fu Panda 2” uses 3-D technology with flair and restraint, adding pop to the action sequences and depth to the landscapes, which evoke an ancient China spun out of candy. The palaces and villages, the mountains and bamboo forests, to say nothing of the beasts who populate this confectionary realm, are evidence of an affectionate, irreverent interest in Chinese artistic traditions. (Hans Zimmer’s score is a witty pastiche that includes some choice ’70s-style chopsocky riffs as well as more stately pseudo classical swatches.) The movie is an obvious parody of sword- and martial-arts wuxia movies, but it also serves as an invitation to young audiences, who may find that Po’s antics have sparked an appetite for the more grown-up pleasures of movies like “Crouching Tiger, Hidden Dragon” or “Curse of the Golden Flower.” Vengeance and bloodshed figure prominently in many of those movies, and also, somewhat disconcertingly, in “Kung Fu Panda 2.” The villain, a peacock named Shen (with the reliably sinister voice of Gary Oldman), has not only usurped the imperial throne, aided by some nasty, armor-plated wolves. He has also conducted a campaign of genocide against pandas, an atrocity that figures in Po’s half-repressed memories. Apparently Po is the only surviving member of his species, which makes him both the target of Shen’s violence and an agent of righteous vengeance. I say “apparently” because an unexplained bit of revisionism at the end of the movie reveals that Shen’s panda slaughter was not as extensive as previously believed. Have I spoiled anything? If you are 7, maybe. If not, I have spared you some uncomfortable explaining, and allowed you to reassure panicky children in your company that everything will be O.K. Everything always is in this kind of movie, but this one plays with some unusually dark and upsetting material.

Its escalation of evil messes up the high-spirited sweetness that was the most winning feature of the first movie. Po’s clumsy, goofy eagerness no longer seems quite as amusing now that he is a psychologically damaged warrior. And his action-team entourage, drawn from various species of animal and movie star — praying mantis, tiger, monkey, etc; Seth Rogen, Angelina Jolie, Jackie Chan, etc. — do more to crowd the picture than to enliven it. On the other hand, an elderly soothsayer voiced by Michelle Yeoh steals every scene she’s in. So all in all, “Kung Fu Panda 2” is about what you would expect, and its audience is likely to settle for it in the absence of a compelling alternative. (“I’ve seen hundreds of movies that were better than this one,”

Early on, Po’s teacher, speaking in the gravelly tones of Dustin Hoffman and doing a cool trick with a drop of water, advises his disciple to seek “inner peace.” “Inner piece of what?” Po asks. Of the box office grosses for “Kung Fu Panda” 3 and 4, I’d guess. by Paul W. Wang

WILLOW POND PARK

An oasis on the outskirts of our city
A paradise that wasn’t known to me
A bird perched on a tree
Emperor Dragonflies zing-zagging by
The zoom of a bee
A big yellow butterfly floating to the bird’s harmonious melody
Heron on the pond wading miraculously
After so many years of not contemplating on nature’s beauty
I am grateful for all the people who worked hard to save this park
An Eden preserved for posterity
Each day I’m amazed at the different birds and insects that I see
Wishing I was a heron, kingfisher or a lark
Staying late and enjoying this magnificent wetland after dark
